CODE OF CONDUCT BETWEEN TEACHING FACULTY AND STUDENTS IN A COLLEGE

The dynamic between teachers and students in a college setting forms the foundation of a vibrant educational environment, fostering learning, growth, and mutual respect. A well-defined code of conduct establishes guidelines for interactions that prioritize respect, communication, fairness, and professionalism between teachers and students. By upholding these standards, both educators and learners create a conducive atmosphere that promotes academic excellence, ethical behaviour, and positive relationships within the educational community. This code of conduct sets the tone for a supportive and enriching educational experience for all involved.

Respect:

- Treat each other with respect, courtesy, and professionalism at all times.

Communication:

- Maintain open and clear communication channels for academic discussions, feedback, and support.

Boundaries:

- Respect professional boundaries and maintain appropriate relationships in and outside of the classroom.

Fairness:

- Ensure fairness in assessment, grading, and interactions with all students.

Confidentiality:

- Safeguard students' personal information and maintain confidentiality when addressing student concerns.

Timeliness:

- Respond promptly to student queries, requests for feedback, and academic support.

Professionalism:

- Demonstrate professionalism in conduct, language, and interactions with students.

Academic Integrity:

- Uphold academic integrity standards, discourage plagiarism, and promote ethical behaviour in academic work.

Accessibility:

- Be accessible to students during designated office hours and provide appropriate support and guidance.

Empathy:

- Demonstrate empathy and understanding towards students' academic challenges and personal circumstances.
